Declaration on the common values of québec society

You must sign this declaration if you are aged 18 or older, or, whatever your age, if you are sponsored as a spouse, de facto spouse or conjugal partner. Members of your family aged 18 or older who are accompanying you to Québec must also read and sign this section of the form.

▶ Québec is a pluralist society that welcomes immigrants who come from the four corners of the earth with their know-how, skills, language, culture and religion.

Québec provides services to immigrants to help them integrate and participate fully in Québec society in order to meet the challenges of a modern society such as economic prosperity, the survival of the French fact and openness to the world. In return, immigrants must adapt to their living environment.

All Quebecers, whether they are native-born or immigrants, have rights and responsibilities and can freely choose their lifestyle, opinions and religion. However, everyone must obey all laws no matter what their beliefs.

The Québec state and its institutions are secular; political and religious powers are separate.

All Quebecers enjoy rights and freedoms recognized by the Charter of Human Rights and Freedoms and other laws and have a responsibility to abide by the values set forth in them.

Common values

The principal values set forth in this Charter, which are the foundation of Québec society, are as follows:

- Québec is a free and democratic society.
- Political and religious powers are separate in Québec.
- Québec is a pluralist society.
- Québec society is based on the rule of law.
- Women and men have the same rights.
- The exercise of human rights and freedoms must respect the rights and freedoms of others and the general well-being.

Québec society is also governed by the Charter of the French language, which makes French the official language of Québec. Accordingly, French is the normal and usual language of work, education, communications, trade and business.

Declaration

Understanding the scope and meaning of the foregoing and agreeing to respect the common values of Québec society, I declare that I wish to live in Québec within the framework of and abiding by its common values, and that I want to learn French, if I do not speak it already.
