

CONTRACT RESPECTING FINANCIAL SELF-SUFFICIENCY

Live-in caregiver and person authorized to apply for permanent residence in Canada on humanitarian grounds

A-0522-PA
(2018-10)

General information

Who must fill out this form?

A live-in caregiver or person authorized by Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada to apply for permanent residence in Canada on humanitarian grounds, who is currently living in Québec and applies for a Québec certificate of selection under the Regular Skilled Worker Program.

All other individuals must complete the form entitled Contract respecting financial self-sufficiency - Skilled Workers, Entrepreneurs and Self-Employed Workers (excluding live-in caregivers and persons authorized to apply for permanent residence in Canada on humanitarian grounds).

What is a Contract respecting financial self-sufficiency?

The Contract respecting financial self-sufficiency is a legal act by which you undertake, for its full term, to provide for your basic needs and, where applicable, those of your spouse or de facto spouse and your dependent children (including those who are Canadian citizens) who accompany you to and live in Québec. The term of the contract is three months starting on the issue date of your Québec certificate of selection. Basic needs include food, clothing, personal necessities and housing-related expenses.

You must sign this contract or else your application for a selection certificate will not be accepted. For more information, see the Québec Immigration Act and the Québec Immigration Regulation.

How to fill out this form

Section A identifies you and, where applicable, your spouse or de facto spouse and dependent children (including Canadian citizens) who are accompanying you: Answer the questions clearly.

Section B of the contract: Read the contract carefully and sign it. Don't forget to enter your gross annual income at Point 1.
